

LMI. Made simple.

Understand the cost, who it protects and how it can help home buyers purchase a home sooner.

What is LMI?

Lenders Mortgage Insurance (LMI) insures the lender so they can help a home buyer with otherwise good serviceability purchase a property with a smaller deposit.

LMI protects the lender against potential losses in case a home owner defaults on their loan and the lender is unable to recover the outstanding loan amount from the sale of the property.

LMI helps home buyers to:

Buy a home now and stop paying rent

Buy a property now with the deposit available

Build financial wellbeing and security

Home buyers should consider their own circumstances and seek advice from their professional advisers before making any decisions. LMI is insurance that protects credit providers, and cannot be provided directly to home buyers. Reframing LMI.

Enhancing customer discussions.

Is LMI expensive?

LMI premium depends on the loan amount and LVR, but LMI typically costs between 1-2% of the loan amount.

Can you explain LMI?

A type of insurance paid if the loan amount is more than 80% of the property's value.

LMI protects the lender, not the home buyer. However, it enables a home buyer to buy a home without having to save a 20% deposit.

Is it necessary?

Lender policies state that LMI is required in most cases where LVR (loan to value ratio) is >80%.

Enhancing your customer discussion.

LMI enables home buyers to buy a home or investment property without a 20% deposit.

Who pays for LMI?

The lender passes on the cost of the premium in the form of an LMI fee.

The fee can be paid upfront, monthly or capitalised into the loan amount.

Selling the benefits

LMI enables a home buyer to:

- Buy a home now
- Save on paying rent
- Start growing equity
- Buy a home without relying on a guarantor.

Home buyer benefits

Typically, lenders require a deposit of 20% to buy a home. LMI helps people enter the property market, by securing a home loan with as little as 5% deposit plus upfront purchase costs*.

Is the 20% deposit still achievable?

Helia is not a 'credit provider', as that term is defined in the National Consumer Credit Protection 2009 (Cth) in respect to its provision of LMI. LMI is insurance that protects credit providers, not borrowers, and cannot be provided directly to borrowers. The examples and other information provided in this document do not refer to a credit contract with any particular credit provider.
